To Evade Police

It is hard to evade the clutches of the law—and for John P. Salomon it proved expensive.

Thursday night he entered the home of W. A. Brown at 909 1/2 Avenue and became so objectionable that Mr. Brown reached for the phone to call police and have him removed. Salomon grabbed the phone and ripped out the cord in order to prevent the arrival of police on the scene.

But the police were called as soon as Mr. Brown could get rid of Salomon, and the phone booth appeared in city court Saturday morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of willful damage. He was fined $15 and costs.

Mr. Anderson's program for meeting the need was that of the United States War Board participation certificates on the 1940, 1941 and 1942 crops. These participation certificates will cover about $750,000 of wheat. The amount payable on them are not yet known, payment on the 1941 certificates will begin in June.

Deep Religious Significance

City Ready to Mark Joyous, Sunlit Easter

Edmonton expects Easter to be a sunlit Alberta spring day, and preparations are being made to greet it with traditional finery. Fundamentally a religious celebration, tradition has established it as the opening day of spring, although the old statistics of the calendar name another date as the official opening of the vernal season.

To glorify the religious significance of the festival with its renewed hope for mankind, and to herald the new season, nearly every altar and pulpit in the city is banked with flowers and every church is expecting full attendance at all services for special choral efforts on Sunday.

It is the day, too, when the first spring outings pass in critical review in the annual Easter parade. Ladies of the city have spent many hours in careful selection of the spring's latest millinery, "reflections."

Significant of the plenty and prosperity which the first Easter should presage, ladies' hats this year run largely to color with flowers, feathers, ribbons and birds, some of the bolder designs carrying them all.

At homes where children are, the visit of the Easter bunny is eagerly anticipated, although the supply of chocolate eggs this year is limited even to the skillful rabbit.

Hundreds of motorists in the city are planning to spend the afternoon visiting friends in the country, or in driving about viewing the city and the rural areas surrounding it, and plucking the pussy willows and catkins adorning every bush.

Many churches remain open on Saturday, so that those who need a moment's prayer to renew their faith are able to do so.

LOCAL GOLF LINKS anticipate that eager club members and visitors will be renewing last summer's skills with their clubs.

But underneath it all, Edmonton has not lost sight of the religious significance of the Easter season. Churches were filled on Good Friday, St. Peter's "Crucifixion," Mount St. Mary's "Crucifixion," and St. Mary's "Crucifixion," were among the musical cantatas heard.

Plan Presentation of Resolution

Soon to be presented to the secretary general of UN by Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King is the illuminated resolution, shown in the above photograph, which assures the adherence of the Fisheries Council of Canada to the charter of the United Nations. The resolution, which was signed by leaders of the fishing industry representing all parts of the Dominion, was accepted on behalf of the prime minister by Hon. H. Francis G. Bridges, minister of fisheries (right) from C. J. Morrow (left) of Lunenburg, N.S., retiring president of the Fisheries Council of Canada. The presentation was made at Ottawa during the council's first annual meeting.

East Edmonton MP Visiting City

He will spend a week in the Edmonton district "helping the boys on the farm," Patrick J. Ashby, federal member of Parliament for Edmonton East, said Saturday morning, when he explained that he will have only a few days here, since the House of Commons renews its sessions on April 29.

"I FEEL THAT the most important thing which attracts my attention are the provision of increased old age pensions and an increase in the exemptions from income tax to $2,000 a year for married men, $1,000 a year for single," Mr. Ashby said.

The increase in old age pensions was "talked out as might be expected," Mr. Ashby stated, but he intends to discuss it further during the budget debate.

Council May Study Rezoning of City

A rezoning of the City of Edmonton will be considered at a special meeting of city council if a recommendation of the bylaw committee is accepted by the aldermen at Edmonton's night session. The committee's decision to recommend the holding of a special council meeting to consider the rezoning of the city was taken during consideration of a submission from the Town Planning Commission outlining zone changes. This submission sets aside park and school areas, and also defines new industrial and other zones.

I've found SECURITY

"We like to go places and buy things, and how to do that and still provide for the future is a real problem. But I've finally licked it. I know definitely that."

"I'll have enough money to retire comfortably when I'm older. My wife will have a guaranteed life income, if I die. Even if I'm totally disabled, I'll still have an income. The children are sure of a proper education. My home will be left free of debt. There will be sufficient cash to meet succession duties and take care of unpaid bills."

"A London Life representative figured out the solution to my problem. The security which this program affords enables us to really enjoy living."

Our representatives are qualified to arrange insurance programs to suit your exact needs.

Opportunities for Alberta In Manufacturing Are Seen

Alberta has her greatest opportunity to enter the manufacturing field, with world and domestic shortages creating an unprecedented demand for manufactured products of all kinds, Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, said in an interview here Saturday.

"ALBERTA WITH HER great resources of coal, gas, timber and oil and with undeveloped water power resources in abundance, now has a golden opportunity to expand her economy from an almost exclusive agricultural economy and enter the manufacturing field on a fairly large scale," the minister stated.

Recently returned from trade missions to Europe and Central and South American countries, Mr. MacKinnon stated that the difficulty at present is not in negotiating trade agreements for Canadian products but for products which the Dominion can supply.

"All NATIONS are seeking wheat, lumber, paper, bacon, beef and land machinery, products which are all in short supply in the Dominion. At present, the minister pointed out.

"But every effort is being made by the federal government to improve our position and although production in Canada is already in heavy volume since the end of the war it is still far below the demand."

MR. MACKINNON ADDED he feared it will be several years before Canadian industry is in a position to promptly fill all foreign and domestic requirements.

Commitments for wheat will not be met this year. As a matter of fact every bushel of Canadian wheat for export will be sent to Great Britain to the end of the present crop year he said.

"Even then we will be 600,000 tons short on orders from foreign countries," he stated. The minister said he doubted that with material shortages and the critical demand for housing that a start will be made this year on the new federal building in Edmonton.

He expressed pleasure in the program for development of northern air fields recently announced at Ottawa.

"HE WAS ALSO highly gratified in the awarding of the McKee aviation trophy to Edmonton's Grant McConchie.

"The eyes of Eastern Canada are all on Edmonton. They know we have a city with a future," the minister said. Mr. MacKinnon is accompanied by D. Walter Thomson of his secretarial staff on his present visit to Edmonton.

Has Explanation For Taking Rifle

A head injury suffered as a child and a sunstroke induced while in army, were blamed by Roger A. St. Pierre as the cause of his stealing a rifle from a hut at the Prince of Wales Armies here Good Friday.

ALTHOUGH discharged last August, St. Pierre appeared in court wearing his uniform and told the court that he had been sleeping in an army hut on the night when the rifle was taken.

The accused was his rifle on some bushes on 104 avenue and Kingsway and turned it over to Provost Corps officials when he questioned him Friday afternoon.

Two Autos Stolen Here Good Friday

Two cars, one of which is believed to have been used in connection with a safe-blowing at Innisfree early Friday morning, were stolen by city burglar during the night. One car has been recovered.

A CAR OWNED by William Atkinson, 1923 127 street, was stolen from his garage Thursday and was later seen in Innisfree late Thursday evening. It is believed that the car may have been used by burglars who blew the safe in the machine agency office operated by W. D. Tyn and escaped with $400 in cash.

The car was recovered by city police at 3 p.m. Friday in a service station yard at 1153 Jasper avenue. RCMP were called to the scene when questioned about the possibility of the car having been used by the burglars.

POLICE ARE STILL trying to locate a stolen automobile which was seen around 1941 by a sedan owned by John Clarke of the South Edmonton Creamery, which was stolen from in front of 9338 88 avenue, Thursday. The left front wheel is cracked and the car is on several cracks on the right front window.

RCMP stated at noon Saturday that Alex. Furry had been arrested in connection with the theft of a sedan and was remanded until April 20, and was released on bail of $2,000.

Security Council

Both the British and Americans in their initial assessment of the Hodgson plan, believe it contains the formula which will enable the council to avoid outright rejection of the Polish resolution and yet permit it to look into the Irish Free State situation.

EVAN MEXICO, one of the staunch supporters of Poland's demand, looked with favor on the Australian proposal. The Poles and the British remained non-committal for the present. They awaited instructions from their home governments. Nevertheless, British delegation sources expressed confidence that both Russia and Poland would get behind the Hodgson resolution.

Just what changes the Americans have in mind were kept a well-guarded secret. They will have to be submitted for the approval of the state department and U.S. delegate Edward R. Stettinius Jr.

HOWEVER, it was known that the American delegation feels that the Hodgson proposal, which had been offered as an amendment to the Polish resolution, needs clarification and some "lightening."

There was question in the minds of many delegates whether acceptance of the Polish proposal, which was carried by a majority of 10 to 9, would be sufficient to enable the council to accept the Australian amendment might be reclassified as a separate motion, thus giving the council an opportunity—if it wishes—to solve the Polish problem until an investigation has been completed.

No Empty Rooms At Yellowknife

There isn't a vacant bed or an empty room in the town of Yellowknife as the rich gold-mining area faces its greatest summer of development. T. W. "Buster" Brown, Mackenzie district traffic manager for CP Air Lines, said on his return here from a four-day visit to the area.

"YELLOWKNIFE was busy last year but this summer's activities far surpass it by far," Mr. Brown said. The CP Air Lines is preparing to meet all traffic eventually, including the gold mining area, Mr. Brown stated.

Reverse Verdict Barrs Murder Case

CALGARY, April 20.—(CP)—A verdict of not guilty ended 14 months of suspense for Lawrence Ross Barrs, 21-year-old dairy farmer, who was charged with the murder of his 62-year-old neighbor, Frank Bishop Thomas, Feb. 14, 1944. The verdict was given Thursday evening.

BARRS WAS FOUND GUILTY of the murder and sentenced to hang in the first trial. The case was taken to the appeal court and a retrial was ordered.

The last trial, which commenced April 8, lasted 12 days with four evening sittings. Fifty-seven witnesses, for both crown and defense gave evidence before the court.

It was 8:02 p.m., exactly 2½ hours after the jury—a trucker, business man, tobaccoist, warhouseman, farmer and a sheet metal worker—filed from the courtroom to make their decision, when the "not guilty" verdict was announced.

Cautions of sheriff that there must be no demonstrations no matter what the verdict, were ignored. The subdued crowds broke into a roar of cheering, hand clapping, tears and shouts of congratulations.

Total Wheat Stocks Show Huge Decline

OTTAWA, April 20.—(CP)—Total stocks of Canadian wheat in North America dropped at March 31 this year were 214,000,000 bushels against 304,200,000 bushels a year ago, a drop of 90,200,000 bushels.

The Dominion bureau of statistics reported Thursday.

OF THE TOTAL, 2,500,000 bushels of wheat were held in the United States against 24,100,000 bushels last year.

Total stocks of Canadian wheat were 185,100,000 bushels against 230,000,000 last year while barley stocks in all positions total 66,900,000 bushels against 80,200,000 a year ago.

Stocks of rye totalled 1,800,000 bushels, compared with 3,000,000 last year, while flaxseed supplies amounted to 2,800,000 bushels against the 1945 figure of 6,000,000.

Of the wheat stocks, 106,000,000 bushels were being held on farms against 134,200,000 a year ago and 13,800,000 bushels were stored in country elevators against 180,100,000 last year.

The bureau said the farm stocks include seed held for the 1946 crop and grain required for livestock and poultry feed until new crop grain becomes available.

THE REPORT ADDED that the decrease of nearly 90,000,000 bushels in farm stocks could be largely accounted for by the comparatively small 1945 crop together with the early lifting of delivery quotas.

It said the decline in over-all wheat stocks, while also reflecting lower production in 1945, was a "natural concomitant" of Canada's large post-war export program.

Bathing Suits Still Immoral 'To the Supreme'

SHERBROOKE, Que., April 20.—(CP)—In a plea to members of his diocese to become apostles of modesty in dress, Most Rev. Philippe Desrosiers, Roman Catholic Bishop of Sherbrooke, Friday vowed the fear that 1946 suits would not be better than 1945, but would continue to be "immoral to the supreme degree."

In a sermon on the lessons of Christ's passion, during a Good Friday ceremony, he said that any fool can dress fashionably, but the fashion is of satanic inspiration.

At a bathing beach, he said, "one should respect one's own body and that of others, respect one's own soul and the souls of others."

A bathing suit was still a bathing suit, and it was not necessary it would be even useless—for women to dress like 30 years ago, but "there is a way of dressing with taste and distinction."

Seek Amendments Anglo-U.S. Loan

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(AP)—Senator Ernest McFarland (Dem., Ariz.) claimed strong senate support yesterday for his amendment to make the proposed $2,500,000,000 British loan conditional on permanent United States rights to the western hemisphere bases now held under 99-year lease.

HIS AMENDMENT, awaiting senate action, also would eliminate provisions restricting the use of such bases to military and naval purposes, and provide for peace-time commercial use by the United States of other U.S.-built bases in the British Empire and areas controlled by Great Britain.

The senate heard fresh attacks on the loan proposal yesterday from Senators Homer Capehart (Rep., Ind.) and Hugh Butler (Rep., Neb.). "If we cannot afford to lease returning veterans money at a rate of two per cent, with the first five years of interest cancelled, on a 35-year basis, with provision that they need not pay the interest when they find it difficult to do so—if we cannot afford to do that, how can we afford to do it for the British government?" Senator Butler asked. "Other people are in greater need of our generosity than are the British."

Senator Capehart said: "It is not good business for us to make this loan, and it is not good business for Great Britain to accept it."

HE OFFERED a substitute proposal: Lend Britain over a five-year period not to exceed $1,500,000,000 or the difference each year between what the British purchase from us and what we purchase from them. "Wherever is the lesser amount."

Plots Out All Landmarks "Arctic Whiteout" Is Latest Menace to Northland Flying

By FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON, April 20.—(AP)—"Arctic Whiteout," a far-northern freak that caused a near-collision between an airplane and a reindeer, has been nominated for addition to the vocabulary of weather men and fliers.

LEONARD J. C. HEDINE of the U.S. weather bureau at Winnipeg, Manitoba, described the "Arctic Whiteout" today, defining it as a condition of the snow country wherein all visible land features are camouflaged. "Blending earth and sky so that the horizon and all landmarks are indistinguishable."

He reported in the bulletin of the American Meteorological Society that it's a peculiar condition occurring in Northwestern Alaska during late winter and early spring, and constituting "a menace to airmen."

A moderate snow cover of late winter, he says, can wipe out vision of all vegetation and ground marks. "The picture is one of an unrelieved expanse of white, wherein the eye can not determine what landmarks may or may not be visible," Hedine said.

"It is important that this phenomenon not be confused with snowblindness, fog, snowstorms, or snowing snow."

HE RECOMMENDED that aerial weather forecasters adopt "Arctic whiteout" as an officially recognized term for use in airway reports.

Asserting that when a "whiteout" prevails, "the picture is one of an unrelieved expanse of white, wherein the eye can not determine what landmarks may or may not be visible," Hedine said.

Happy Britons Marking Easter

LONDON, April 20.—(Reuters)—Thousands of British families, many of them reunited this Easter for their first holiday since before the war, snapped their fingers today at austerity and the possibility of a break in the weather.

The weather again was fine and seaside resorts were coping with record crowds of holiday makers, while from London's main line stations extra trains to the coast were run.

FOR THE FIRST TIME since 1939, sport resumed full "bank holiday week-end" proportions. Londoners can take their pick from among soccer, greyhound racing, horse racing and tennis fixtures.

Other attractions for stay-at-home holiday-makers in London—especially the children—including half a dozen circuses, Punch and Judy shows in the parks and streets, boating on park lake and trips on the upper Thames.

'Governor-General' Said Too Colonial

LONDON, April 20.—(CP)—Suggestion that the title "governor-general" should be changed to eliminate a feeling of colonialism in the dominions was made Thursday by Sir Shuldham Redfern, who for 10 years was secretary to the governor-general at Ottawa.

Writing in The Spectator, weekly magazine, Sir Shuldham also said it might be desirable to modify the council of state system by which the King is represented during absence from Britain, as in the forthcoming royal tour of South Africa. "Most people would regard it as absurd if, when His Majesty goes to South Africa next year, Sir (Prime Minister) Atlee recommended that a distinguished soldier from the dominions should be appointed governor-general of Great Britain, but that would be in accordance with aristocratic practice if the full measure of equality referred to in the statute of Westminster were strictly applicable."

Of the title of governor-general, Sir Shuldham said: "That a governor-general should also be designated commander-in-chief seems to conflict with the principle that the King is himself commander-in-chief of all the forces of the crown, wherever they may be."

CHICAGO, April 20.—(AP)—The dispute between the Philadelphia and St. Louis clubs of the American League over the services of George McQuinn, first baseman, has been settled by Commissioner Albert B. Chandler, who ruled that McQuinn should remain the property of the Athletics.

1946 is an all-important year FOR CANADA'S TOURIST BUSINESS

MILLIONS OF AMERICAN VISITORS are expected to come to Canada during 1946 for their first post-war vacation.

It won't always be easy to accommodate them. We still have our crowding and shortages. We are still in the aftermath of war. This is the very reason we should all take special care to be courteous and considerate to our guests this summer.

This year, of all years, we must maintain the reputation we have won for true hospitality.

YOU MAY NEVER SEE A TOURIST, BUT... tourist dollars flow to you. The grocer, the garage man, the farmer, the office worker—everybody benefits directly or indirectly from tourist spending, and the extra work and income it creates. Last year, tourists in Canada spent more than one hundred and fifty million dollars. In the years ahead, as our ability to handle tourist traffic grows, who is to say how big this business may become? For Canada is in an enviable position—a natural vacation land next door to the most travel minded nation in the world. This is an all-important year! It may be difficult in many ways yet it holds great promise for the future.

THEY'LL BE TALKING ABOUT US... We want them to come again. We want them to tell their friends: "We had a marvellous time in Canada!" By making them truly welcome, we can win millions of enthusiastic salesmen for Canada—"satisfied customers" who will pass on to many times their number the story of Canadian hospitality and of Canada's unlimited attractions as a vacation land.

Has Many Building Triumphs in America

Noted U. S. Architect to Design $6,000,000 Hotel For Edmonton

By JACK DELONG

Frank Mills Andrews of New York City has designed and supervised many of America's largest and most beautiful buildings and now he is confident that he will give Edmonton its finest monument to modern architectural genius and skill in the form of a $6,000,000 hotel that may be 15 stories in height.

QUICKLY GROOMED, Frank Andrews has been building great structures in the United States for several decades. His age is a "non-military" secret but he is anything but a "tired old man."

His steel gray eyes are as sharp as a hawk, his carriage is erect and his stomach as flat as many men half his age.

The Edmonton hotel is his first construction job in western Canada. In the United States, however, he is known from coast to coast as an architect who has placed the designing and rearing of great mansions of steel and concrete in a category that is a form of the fine arts.

ALTHOUGH he has specialized in designing hotels and supervised the plans for many of America's finest public buildings, famous churches.

His biggest building is the "suitable building at 120 Broadway, New York City, a 43 story structure, having the highest property valuation of any building in the great metropolis. It is valued at approximately $50,000,000.

The state capital at Frankfort, Kentucky, is the building of which he is most proud. He has supervised and designed the Montana state capitol at Helena.

SOME of the world famous hotels that Mr. Andrews designed and supervised construction of are: Hotel McAlpin, New York City; Hotel Washington, New York City; Hotel Tait, New Haven, Conn.; Algonquin hotel, Louisville, Ky.; Clarendon hotel, Washington, D.C.; and the Commodore Hotel, New York City.

He has supervised the construction of free building while under construction: Warwick Hotel, Boston, Mass.; Hotel Gibson, Dayton, O.; Hotel Clinton, Cincinnati; Battle Creek hotel, Battle Creek, Mich.; 60 stories, 100,000 sq. ft., New York City; "Kaiser" hotel building, and many other smaller hotels and buildings.

Great mercantile buildings Andrews has designed and supervised include:

PUBLIC MARKET HOUSE, Dayton, O.; department store building, Sinton Estate, Cincinnati and retail store building in same city.

Kider and Johnson department store in Dayton, Ohio, and New York and taxi garage, New York.

Outstanding structures used as business offices have been planned by Andrews are:

Rebald, Hoover, E. J. Barney Group, and National Cash Co. buildings, all of Dayton, O.; Jefferson Building, 146 Broadway, Louisville, Ky.; Johnson Building, Muncie, Ind.; Journal Building, Chicago; and the National Bank Building, all of Dayton, O.

MANUFACTURING plants include:

Woolen Mills, Piqua, O.; paper mills, Chillicothe, O.; paper mills, Meade, O.; United States Paper Mills, Beverly, Mass.; National Cash Register plant, Dayton, O.; and Dayton Sewing Machine plant, Dayton.

State buildings were: Southern Ohio hospital for the insane, Kentucky State Capitol and Montana State Capitol.

Churches: Roman Catholic church and parsonage, Columbus, O.; chapel, Dayton, O.; Protestant church, Dayton, and a Protestant church in Middletown, O.

THE SWANK DAYTON and Columbus clubs at Dayton and Indianapolis, respectively, were also designed by Andrews.

The widely renowned Battle Creek sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich., operated by the famed Dr. W. Kellie, was also designed by Mr. Andrews.

The New York architect carried with him many letters of commendation for his work. These include references from Hon. L. W. Robert, Jr., assistant secretary of the treasury, "models of beauty and practicality for public buildings."

THE HOUSE of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Kentucky passed a resolution lauding Mr. Andrews for his design and supervision of the state capitol.

Chuckling a little, Mr. Andrews said his interview.

"Do you know that without the slightest intention in the world I had quite a bit to do with David Lloyd George becoming prime minister of Great Britain during the First Great War?"

The architect explained the incident was a result of taking a trip to Europe on doctors' orders, following injury in a train wreck in 1912.

HE HAD OPENED offices in London and one day he received a cable from Wall Street bankers asking him to call of Lloyds and obtain instructions.

There he met Gen. Van Donop, purchasing agent for the British Army who discussed a plan to have American industry deliver 5,000 machine guns each month to the British Army. The monthly output of U. S. factories was greater than a whole year's output in Britain.

Later he met and discussed the proposition with Sir Arthur Maclean, a wealthy British coal operator. The First Great War was then on and the British Army had been driven back toward the channel.

At the time the situation seemed desperate.

IT WAS CLAIMED that the British were suffering reverses because of the lack of machine guns.

A group in parliament were determined that Premier Asquith must resign.

Andrews was introduced to Mr. Lloyd George and other parliamentarians and a questionnaire drafted for the House of Commons. The fact that the U. S. offer of machine guns had not been acted upon was where Andrews entered the picture.

He was asked to recall his earlier interviews on the matter and questionnaires drawn up.

In due course the questions were asked in the House, and as a result the Asquith government resigned and Lloyd George became wartime prime minister.

AFTER THE WAR Mr. Andrews met Lloyd George again in the United States.

"The first thing he said when he shook my hand was: 'Oh, the machine gun man', the architect recalled.

Also an engineer of note, Mr. Andrews had conferences with high French Army officers regarding a network of military highways.

Mr. Andrews also visited Italy and Russia in connection with highways.

ACCORDING TO MR. ANDREWS, Mr. Asquith was not the grasping, greedy man of money that he has often been pictured.

Of Morgan, Mr. Andrews says: "He was a fine man of strong character who has been much maligned. He is a great institution founded on justice and fairness."

His first meeting with Morgan was amusing, the New York architect recalled.

To arrange with the Morgan company the financing of a certain project, Mr. Andrews journeyed all the way to London for a personal interview.

HE WAS GRANTED the interview.

Entering the American banker's London home he stated his business briefly and concisely to "a great big man sitting in a chair who made me think of a Chinese Joss."

"The only response I received was a grunt from the Chinese Joss," chuckled Andrews.

"I was mad, so I started to leave the room. On the way to the door I stopped to admire a fine painting. Morgan left his chair at once to talk about the picture. We chatted for a while and then the New York financial architect told me he would be in New York on a certain day and for me to see him in his office."

"I WENT HOME and was on hand for the appointment. Our business was successfully completed in just 15 minutes."

"From then on Morgan was one of my closest friends. He told me he had been greatly impressed by the fact I had journeyed all the way across the ocean for a personal interview."

Andrews is an artist in addition to being an architect and engineer and used to do a considerable amount of painting himself.

"FRANK ANDREWS was born in De Moines, Iowa, of New England. His mother died when he was a child. His father was a doctor. He was a great-grandfather on his mother's side fought in the American revolutionary war while his great-grandfather on his father's side also fought for General Washington in the war of independence.

He was graduated in civil engineering from Iowa State College and from Cornell University in architecture.

He had a year of study in London where he became a medalist in the Royal Society of British Arts.

He started work as an architect in the New York office of George B. Post and later became chief designer under the firm of Jenney and Mundie, Chicago.

After that he opened his own offices.

He is hoping to leave another monument by which he will be remembered in Edmonton in the new hotel.

"FRANK ANDREWS was born in De Moines, Iowa, of New England. His mother died when he was a child. His father was a doctor. He was graduated in civil engineering from Iowa State College and from Cornell University in architecture.

He had a year of study in London where he became a medalist in the Royal Society of British Arts.

He started work as an architect in the New York office of George B. Post and later became chief designer under the firm of Jenney and Mundie, Chicago.

After that he opened his own offices.

He is hoping to leave another monument by which he will be remembered in Edmonton in the new hotel.

was amusing, the New York architect recalled.

To arrange with the Morgan company the financing of a certain project, Mr. Andrews journeyed all the way to London for a personal interview.

HE WAS GRANTED the interview.

Entering the American banker's London home he stated his business briefly and concisely to "a great big man sitting in a chair who made me think of a Chinese Joss."

"The only response I received was a grunt from the Chinese Joss," chuckled Andrews.

"I was mad, so I started to leave the room. On the way to the door I stopped to admire a fine painting. Morgan left his chair at once to talk about the picture. Easter

There is a tendency on the part of some religionists to deprecate the outward show that customarily marks the celebration of Easter. The gay new hats and costumes and all the seasonal finery come in for some criticism on the ground that Easter is primarily a religious festival and has nothing to do with this display of vanity. glory.

These critics are unduly severe. For Easter is essentially a joyful time and, indeed, is so completely joyous that it is a very nature, with joy and happiness that there is such a thing as a person expressing the deep spiritual joyousness of the festival quite instinctively without being consciously aware of any religious significance in his behaviour.

For the change in human fortunes effected by the Crucifixion and Resurrection of our Lord are so profound that it is hard to believe that even the most indifferent can be quite beyond the feeling of them. It is hard to imagine that even most people are consciously or unconsciously untouched by the tremendous meaning of the sacred act which opened the gates of Heaven to all mankind.

Easter, then, in a day upon which even a blithe new hat may be a kind of prayer.
For the inner meaning of Easter has not been revealed only to the initiated but is the heritage of all believers. And the whole world sings with it.

Good Friday and Easter Sunday, its corollaries, are the most vital days of the Christian calendar. They symbolize and recall those things which are the very essence of the Faith.

And these things are particularly significant this year when many of the Christian communities in Canada are putting forth a special effort to revive and rededicate the faith of Christ's followers so that the Church may have the fullest support in its task of building a new civilization and of making it spiritually competent to control the might of matter.

Easter and the meaning of Easter are the apexes of these advance movements.
The faith and the meaning of Easter are the only possible substance for the building of the city of peace.

It is no wonder, then, that Easter is a season of gaiety. It is a season of triumph and victory in the history of mankind. It is a celebration of the act which brought the only freedom which truly makes men free.

The Farmer Should Know

One Ottawa despatch cites a grape-vine report that the French have taken to the farm implements without consulting the cabinet.

Unless confirmed, this can be taken with a pinch of salt. The French have a number of influential persons in Canada who would like to see Mr. Donald Gordon and his colleagues chased off the job, because they haven't raised selling prices for their gentlemen raised. It is quite conceivable that some of the disgruntled ones are trying to spread an impression that the farm functions as a bureaucratic institution.

Whether or not the Board acted on its general authority, or after getting specific instructions from the cabinet, does not affect the fact that so far as the public know the ceiling had to be lifted if implements are to be turned out in greater numbers. Nor the representative of the fact that the farmers will have to get more money for their products because their tools are to cost them more.

Whoever really raised the ceiling on implements should have raised the ceiling on farm products at the same time. Not only because that would have avoided the outburst of protests from the farmers. But because reducing the price of the tools and not the products would have meant that the position is not to be made worse though implements are to cost more.

Unless he is assured on that point quickly, it would be unreasonable to expect him to try for any new production records. And we need new production records in order to alleviate every class of farm products.

Joint Action Required

The proposal that the Dominion assist Alberta financially in order to keep the foothill belt clothed with trees is sound. Without such assistance the province could not import the forest protection service now in operation.

Federal aid is logical, because Saskatchewan and Manitoba are interested, as well as Alberta, in maintaining the flow of water in the rivers which rise in the mountains and meander across the prairies. To conserve and regulate the flow of water from the glaciers and rainfall in the mountains is the primary purpose of the scheme to perpetuate the forest belt.

This proposal to share the cost will come up at the Dominion-Provincial conference which opens in Ottawa next week. If any arrangement is made it will thus be the first financial relations. An advantage of this is that the sharing bargain would be permanent; and unless it is made permanent the forest preservation scheme would not be worth bothering with.

It Isn't An Oil Dispute

Foreign Secretary Bevin said at London that the Soviet-Iranian agreement does not, so far as can be seen, interfere in any way with Britain's supply of oil from south Iraq.

This is the common reply to some hard-pressed apologists for Russia's bulldozing methods, who have said that the Iranian dispute was merely a clash between British and Russian oil "interests," that Britain was trying to keep Russia from getting concessions in a field which it had marked out for itself.

Not a scrap of evidence has been produced to show that Britain wanted oil concessions in north Persia or that Russia wanted concessions in the southern area. The legendary rivalry was fiction, trumped up in the absence of justifying reasons for Russia's course of action.

Nor has anyone in authority anywhere said Russia should not get the concessions it sought and has obtained. The objections, in the Security Council and elsewhere, have been that Russia violated its treaty with Iran, kept its troops in the country, and thus backed its demands by a plainly illegal threat.

How Apply the Pressure?

Poland, speaking also for Russia and France, wants all the United Nations to break off diplomatic relations with Spain.
The proposal is based on the claim that Franco is providing a refuge and laboratory for Nazi scientists who are working on atomic weapons and other equipment for World War III.

That fugitive Nazis took refuge in Spain in large numbers is morally certain, whether or not demonstrably true. What they are doing there is less certain. Franco has not been asked to let Spanish scientists out.
And Poland did not impress the Council with the case it was able to build up from outside information.

Assuming that scientists are among the refugees, and that they are doing what they are supposed to be doing, and probably are doing, the point is whether Franco could be driven from power by the use of arms. It is placing Spain in diplomatic quarantine. It is rather to be doubted.

Several of the United Nations have already taken action against Franco's army.
The others only maintain formal contact with the dictator. There is no positive indication that this has spurred Spaniards to the point where they would be willing to overthrow him. A complete severance of official links with other countries could only strengthen the internal hostility to his government.

Short of employing military force to oust Franco, which they long ago had warrant to do, but are not doing, the only way to bring about a change in Franco's policy towards Spain is to work through and with Nations inside Spain who are hostile to Franco or are willing to throw him overboard under pressure. That merely breaking diplomatic relations would exert the necessary pressure is far from certain. Some propaganda addressed to Spaniards would be very much order at this juncture.

Those innocent Indonesians who are supposed to be the victims of Dutch aggression and the enlightened way of life imbued and murdered three members of the Australian war crimes commission near Batavia. The commission was not concerned with the quarrel between the Java insurgents and the Dutch. It was on the way to Japan prisoners of war to look for some Japanese criminals. The inference is plainly as to the relations between the Indonesians and the Japs.

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

ONE of the largest fests ever to enter a music festival here is reported for the tenth Edmonton and district competition, to be held during the week of May 6.

Entrants closed April 8, and officials in charge are of the opinion that the list is one of the most comprehensive and the competitions will be among the best.

Among the entrants are a variety of music in all styles, which is the first such event in Canada. It was organized by Herbert G. Turner, and the committee in charge, and other officials are: JOHN OLIVER, president; Howard Stutchbury, vice president; Mrs. W. Hamilton, executive; Ralph R. Cooper, Vice President; Mrs. Cyril Hollander, and the Rev. Father G. L. Green. The provincial festival is being held at Lethbridge from May 20 to 25.

Mr. Turner is optimistic over the success of the district festival, and is confident that there will be a high standard of performance. There are 22 classes, not only in various vocal and instrumental categories but in speech arts, drama and choral speaking. While the music events always have drawn large entry lists, Mr. Turner is especially pleased with the increase in speech arts and choral speaking.

Adjudicators are Dr. Charles Peaker, director of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, for vocal and instrumental events, and Sydney Hink for speech arts.

Affairs of the Edmonton City Opera Society are in abeyance until the annual meeting to be held at the Elgin theatre on Tuesday May 7, when officers for the next year will be elected and plans for the 1946-47 season discussed. Two of the major problems awaiting solution are whether to give more shows, and whether to stay in the realm of light opera, or if two productions are to be given, to have a grand opera in the autumn and a light opera in the spring. In the meantime members of the executive are scanning the horizon for suitable venues.

The program will be as follows: organ solo by Prof. Heymes-King, Miniature from Two Little Pieces for a Portable Organ, Rossi; Beethoven Piano Trio, Fugue in G, Haymeyer's Dance and Rondeau from "The Fairy Queen," Purcell; Tchaikovsky Concerto, Sinopoli; Violin with Trumpet solo from "Amadigi" and Minuet from "Samson"; Handel's "The Tune and Allegretto, Whitlock; Pastoral and Becquerie; Varèse, "The Stride is Over," Karg-Elert; by the senior choir, Lord for Thy Tender Mercies, Saks; Toccata for Trombone and Saxophone by the senior and junior choirs, All Hall the Power of Jesus Name; Vaughan Williams, "The Song of the Sea"; and "The Song of the Sea," which will sing The Russian Nightingale, Mrs. Phyllis Bann, "Come My Heart's Delight," Mozart; and The Wren, Benedetti.

able vessels, bearing in mind cost to works already given, availability of funds, scenery and costumes.

The Edmonton Philharmonic Society is continuing practice, even though the regular season terminated last month. Abe Frakin, conductor has had on the music stands several major items which he proposes to include in future programs and it is determined no effort will be spared to ensure the best possible preparation of all details.

Mrs. Ernest Meade, director of the Women's Musical Club Celebrates Series of concerts has stated that most of last season's patrons have taken up their options for the next year.

Edmonton music lovers have learned with regret of the death at Kew, England, of Sydney Jones. His music was a wide following. Of his most successful music, "The Gipsy" and "San Juan" have been recorded on several occasions and always with success. He was 77 years old. He was a highly accomplished musician whose scores were not only replete with attractive melodies but bore the stamp of highly trained craftsmanship.

In Italy he was dignified with the sobriquet of "Il Maestro" which is given sparingly in that country and is not bandied about as it is on this continent, with very few exceptions.

At the concert to be held at the Empire theatre on Friday next by the Dominion Institute of Music, under the auspices of the Port Augustus Chapter, IOOE, Betty Shaw will give eloquent numbers and Edward Bryant will be master of ceremonies. The concert will be under the direction of Ray Lettice Olson, and Noreen Bristow will be the vocal soloist.

PROF. JOHN HEYMES-KING, head of the music department, University of Alberta, and organist and choirmaster of Robertson United Church will give an organ recital at his church on April 26 at 8:15 p.m. Cathryn Zender, soprano, and Irlan Green, flute, will be the assistant soloists. The church's senior and junior choirs will also assist. The church's organ fund will be the beneficiary.

The program will be as follows: organ solo by Prof. Heymes-King, Miniature from Two Little Pieces for a Portable Organ, Rossi; Beethoven Piano Trio, Fugue in G, Haymeyer's Dance and Rondeau from "The Fairy Queen," Purcell; Tchaikovsky Concerto, Sinopoli; Violin with Trumpet solo from "Amadigi" and Minuet from "Samson"; Handel's "The Tune and Allegretto, Whitlock; Pastoral and Becquerie; Varèse, "The Stride is Over," Karg-Elert; by the senior choir, Lord for Thy Tender Mercies, Saks; Toccata for Trombone and Saxophone by the senior and junior choirs, All Hall the Power of Jesus Name; Vaughan Williams, "The Song of the Sea"; and "The Song of the Sea," which will sing The Russian Nightingale, Mrs. Phyllis Bann, "Come My Heart's Delight," Mozart; and The Wren, Benedetti.

It is based on such passages as these: "Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the Lord of hosts." (Malachi 3:1). "Jesus mapped out the path for others. He unveiled the Christ, the spiritual idea of divine love." (The Christ, by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 38).

Object of Search Boy With Kite Disrupts Power

A small unidentified boy flying his kite here Thursday evening caused one of the worst power disturbances in Alberta's history stretching from Olds to the international border.

Calgaryans were without street car service for more than half an hour and lights all over Southern Alberta went dim when the boy's kite became entangled in two spans of the three-span, main power lines between the west and east Calgary sub stations, power company officials said.

The kite string created a conductive bridge between the two lines which later developed into a self-sustaining arc and caused the company's three main dams to "kick-off."

LIONEL MEUNIER Continue Search For Missing Lad

The month-long search for 13-year-old Lionel Meunier, who has "Missing" status since March 22, swung toward the Morinville district Saturday as police received information that led them to believe he might be in that area.

LIONEL SON OF Mrs. A. Meunier, 1321 92nd street, left his home on the morning of March 22, apparently to go to school, but never arrived there and has not been seen since. At first it was believed the boy had gone to B.C., but a few days later RCMP discovered that the lad had spent the night of March 22 at Strathmore, and later heading east.

Police then checked at Father Athol Murray's Boys' Town at Wilcox, Sask., as Lionel had expressed great interest in the school there. He never arrived at the Wilcox establishment, and latest information given the police is that he may be in the Morinville district.

THE MISSING BOY is described as five feet 3 or 4 inches tall.

Woman to Stand Trial For Theft

A five-month search for a woman who was wanted in connection with the theft of $1,000 from the room of Mrs. Mary Stamp, 9530 108 avenue, last November 19, ended Friday with the arrival here from RCMP camp near Vancouver of Edna Gardicki. She has been charged with theft of the money and is scheduled to appear in city court Saturday.

THE MONEY, which represented the life savings of Mrs. Stamp, was kept in a trunk in her room. On Nov. 19, the room was entered and a camera, several rolls of film and other small articles stolen. The following day Mrs. Stamp looked in her trunk, which appeared to have been undisturbed and found that her life savings were gone.

A small check in the trunk containing $1,000 had been opened and the money taken, while two small banks, each containing $15 and $15 in American coins and other change was also missing.

What Your Church Is Doing

Story of Easter to Feature Service at Beverly United

By HELEN FERRIS

A flannelgraph story of Easter with interwoven music will feature the morning service at Beverly United Church tomorrow.

This service will constitute part of the Easter Sunday program for All Peoples' Mission, which includes special services in the mission's three other churches: Forest Heights, Buchanan, and Russell Memorial Church.

In a later article, we hope to tell you something of the work being

Metropolitan Plans 2 Morning Services

In order to accommodate the Easter congregations, Metropolitan United has arranged to hold two services on Sunday morning, the first at 9:30 and the second at the regular hour of 11:00 o'clock.

The minister will preach, and the music will be provided by the combined junior and senior choirs. In the evening, a special musical vespers service will be held, with a program of special Easter music by the choir under the direction of J. I. Gish.

Then an opportunity to "hear Him gladly."

"IN SUMMER CAMPS we felt particularly that we were serving 'fifth sparrows'." There were so many folk who needed just the lift that we were able to give, and to the people who had this possible, through the Community Church, we are indeed grateful.

"That was true, too, at Christmas. Answering the challenge of the Crusade for Christ and His King dom, everybody continued in an really interested way with the mission, seems to have put in a little extra bit of themselves this year."

The report does not mention how much of himself this kindly, energetic "friend to man" has put into his service—how heartily and earnestly he has met the challenge. "Feed my sheep."

"BY THIS SHALL all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another." John 13:35.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Easter — 1946

"WHOSOEVER liveth and believeth in Me shall never die." Man's salvation was purchased by the agony and death of Christ. This is a basic tenet of the Christian faith. That is why the sorrow of Lent becomes transformed into the triumph and jubilation of Easter. That is why men have hope; why the Light of God can never be extinguished in the world.

But Easter despise this year to many places where there is fear, even despair. Men and women in war-devastated countries are hungry and shelterless. Many are tempted to turn away, unbelieving, because they have known God's name but not His mercy.

There is the weakness of human flesh. It is the folly of those who walked with Christ to Golgotha, but fled before they could witness the miracle of the third day. The Risen Christ returns again in glory to the world; but one needs sometimes a steadfast and loyal faith to perceive the reality of His victory.

Let the tired and suffering—the legion of war's victims—take heart. Their Easter dawn from millions of hearts in other lands who, in Christ's name and by His command, are gathering the clothing, food, medicine and money needed to restore them to health and to rekindle the light of happiness in the eyes of their young and helpless.

These ministers of charity are the heralds of Christ. They are the witnesses in this dark day to the courage with which Christ essayed to pass through the portals of death in other lands who, in Christ's name and by His command, are gathering the clothing, food, medicine and money needed to restore them to health and to rekindle the light of happiness in the eyes of their young and helpless.

Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments:

And as they were afraid, and bowed down before their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead?

He is not here, but is risen: remember how He spake unto you when He was yet in Galilee.

Out of the spiritual centuries, long gone, there comes new and holy promise to a troubled world.

The Voice that spoke to a people in grave conflict seems to echo today over modern battlefronts. It is reflected in the spontaneous reverence men feel under fire... in the Holy Book that is found on the bodies of the dead and in the hearts of the living.

Edmonton Churches Arrange Colorful Easter Services

Flowers and colorful ornaments will adorn city churches on Sunday in accordance with the Easter custom. While will be the featured color, which signifies joy, light and purity. Citizens of all ages and denominations, many for the first time in their new spring ensembles, will be seen making their way to church at various hours throughout the day.

IN THE MORNING children will attend Sunday school, where a large number of them will learn for the first time the true significance of Easter and that it is celebrated in commemoration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Special sermons have been prepared by the ministers and in most churches it is planned to make music an important part of the service. Organists, choirs and soloists will be main features.

EASTER SUNDAY which is celebrated on the first Sunday after the full moon following the equinox, is generally regarded as the chief festival of the Christian year because it commemorates the central figure of the Christian religion.

Much controversy has been stirred up in the past between the Jewish Christians and the Gentile Christians to the day Easter should be celebrated. Many centuries ago it was the cause of bloodshed. The Jewish faith claimed that it should be on the fourteenth day after the full moon, without regard to the day of the week, while the Gentiles held fast that it should be on the first day of the week following the moon.

THERE HAVE BEEN many discussions and proposals on the date

Easter Morning
The morning comes. But I need a star light—I who have stayed so long away—the mellow-throated notes the organ makes. The stillness for someone to pray, I who have made the skies my temple walls. My music of the tree-woods and the sea. Know now that distant stars for beads of comfort Can not alone comfort my soul here. The heart grows hungry for the words of God. And even though the Christ walks through the wood. Brush of men's shoulders toward the same high goal. Man speaking unto man—is always good. So I will find the temple as this day. Worship an hour with the throng of men. Give whom I sought near stars and sky and sea. Will stand beside me in my church again.

Edmonton Museum of Arts Marks Its 23rd Birthday This Year

Edmonton's Museum of Arts will mark its 23rd birthday this year. According to the pages of local history, the museum's growth and development, while never spectacular, has been sufficiently noticeable with the passage of the years.

An increasing number of prominent Edmontonians have thrown their support behind the idea of the organization.

R. W. Hedley is Museum curator. The idea of an Edmonton art gallery was first broached in the spring of 1923 at the annual meeting of the Edmonton Association.

The idea came in for some lively discussion but it wasn't until 1925 that a meeting was called with the definite purpose of forming an art museum. A later public meeting endorsed that purpose and in August, 1925, the Edmonton Museum of Arts was launched as a chartered organization in this city.

It was a case of starting from scratch. Mrs. David Bowman, Dr. R. B. Wells, William Johnston and others, all prominent at that time in the local art fraternity, secured a small exhibition of pictures from the National Art Gallery, pictures which went on display in the city library, first headquarters of the Museum. Other displays continued weekly in the Macdonald hotel, until 1927, when headquarters were obtained on the fourth floor of the Civic Block.

CHILDREN'S ART classes were started in the middle 1920's, assisted by grants from the Carnegie Corporation. It was to be the beginning of the museum's most extensive education work.

In June, 1935, the city commissioners, requiring the space here, prepared larger quarters for the organization at 508-102 avenue. It became possible to extend the educational work and to show larger and more varied exhibitions of pictures.

FORTUNE SMILED on the infant museum when interested patrons began donating pictures and other works of art which became the nucleus of the gallery's permanent collection. The first painting by the museum was a landscape in oils "The Welsh Hills" by Robert Gallon, a presentation of the fine arts committee of the Local Council of Women.

Outstanding among others included a bequest of four pictures left by J. A. McDougall and two pictures presented by Dr. Wells, in addition to a bronze sculpture. The assets have grown until now the total evaluation is in the neighborhood of $23,000.

Attendance now averages about 300 persons every day, comparing favourably with museums of much larger cities in the Dominion.

SERVICES RENDERED by the museum include the display of travelling art exhibitions 126 during the past year, art education of younger people, monthly programs dedicated to various phases of art work, the museum shop and other features.

Membership at present exceeds 400, each of whom is kept posted on museum activities through a monthly bulletin. The museum is now the headquarters of such related arts as the Cine club, Art club, Photographic club, Sketch club, Welsh choir, Handicrafts Guild and others.

EXHIBITION of the Edmonton Art club, April 22 to 27, is one of the displays arranged for the 23rd year of the museum's existence, when all walls of the museum are at the disposal of the club during the Easter week period.

AMERICAN LEGION Post being formed. An American Legion post in the city is well on the way to formation with a number of members already signed and approval having been given from American Legion headquarters in Washington and the American Legion Canadian department in Montreal.

One of the chief organizers here, Lloyd R. Atkinson, a former member of the RCAF and USAF.

The branch in Edmonton is expected to be able to recruit about 150 members made up of Americans now living here and Edmonton citizens who served with the American forces.

The main objective of the post here will be to keep U.S. veterans informed as to changes in legislation with regard to the G.I. Bill of Rights.

The ROAD AHEAD

By HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

IN RECENT years much has been written, and much has been said, about "our way of life." Today, and during the next five years, "our way of life" is, and will be, on the testing grounds. If it produces it will remain. If it fails to produce the future we have all been led to hope for, then "our way of life" will be cast aside and we will embark upon a series of experiments with other ways of life.

PERSONALLY, I hope that those who lead this country will be successful in their attempts to justify "our way of life." I believe that democracy, if not the most efficient, is the best form of government. I believe that capitalism, intelligently and fairly operated, has as much chance of success as any other economic system. I believe that individual freedom is the only way to secure the freedom of every individual the same freedom as it does to any other, is the most desirable of all things.

Basically, I believe that it is the purpose of society to provide for every citizen an opportunity of securing happiness. To be happy I believe that a man must have two things, personal freedom (in all its forms) and security. It is the duty of society to insure these two things to all its members. It is the duty of each of those individual members to do all in his power to insure that each of his fellows gets them.

FASCISM HAS ALREADY failed in the "trial by combat." Today two other great ideologies are being tried and tested: Socialism and Communism and democratic capitalism (British Socialism under the Labor party is actually only a modified form of democratic capitalism—at least as it is being operated today).

Both Russia and the great democracies have suffered from the war—Russia has suffered the heaviest. Today both face the same problems. Both must house its people. Both must provide employment for its people. Both must (Continued on Page 26)

EASTER LILIES BLOOM IN ABUNDANCE: One of the most significant of all religious festivals—Easter Sunday—is being celebrated throughout the world tomorrow. Forever associated with the day is the lily, which is the most prominent flower in the decoration of church churches and other features associated with the occasion. Flowers will be prominent in Edmonton. Above are shown many lilies and hydrangeas which were on view this morning prior to going in many directions—to homes, churches, and many other places. Enjoying being among the blooms are Doreen Stewart, 11000 125 street, left, and Florence Stiller, 237 Armstrong Road, 101 street, right.

Wickets at the post office will be open from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, and the public lobby from 7 a.m. to 12 noon. No Action Taken On Sites for AGT
Three suggested sites for house headquarters of the Alberta Government Telephones, which the officials of the city of Edmonton still hope will be maintained here instead of being transferred to Calgary as threatened by Wm. A. Fellow, minister of public works, have been received by the government in regard to selecting one or any of them. Cabinet ministers in almost daily session in the legislative buildings in the past week have been engrossed in outlining Alberta's position in the forthcoming Dominion-provincial conference, to the virtual exclusion of the more localized business, the premier said.

The Inquiring Reporter
THE QUESTION
Will there be a meat shortage in Canada due to present price differentials between packers and producers arising from price controls?

THE ANSWERS
WILLIAM HASTINGS, clerk: There is no shortage of a shortage for at least 10 days to two weeks in most Canadian centres, and it is possible that some solution of the difficulty will be found before the critical point in the supply situation has been reached.

HARRY FRASER, bookkeeper: The government should move immediately to are to it that there is no shortage of meat due to the present price ceiling situation. Present stocks should be frozen, and only sale of regular weekly requirements of families should be permitted. Otherwise there will be a rush to buy to obtain supplies against any shortages in supply which might occur.

PHILIP PERKINS, salesman: It would appear that the producer is again the goat in the price war between the packers and the wartime prices and trade board. The result of packers' purchase cattle now very readily available to livestock producers. There should be no time lost by governmental agencies to see that the dispute between government and packers is settled. If the packers can prove that they should be given higher price levels, or they should be subsidised.

Plan to Survey Fur Regulations

Claims Women Have Role In Moulding Public Opinion

"Canadian women have an important role to play in the moulding of public opinion and the strengthening of the democratic way of life," Mrs. Edgar D. Hardy, CBE, Ottawa, said Friday in an interview in The Edmonton Bulletin.

"Women must realize that with the impact of various ideologies into this country, they cannot be complacent about democracy but must fight to preserve it just as bravely as our men fought for it through the war."

"If we believe in democracy we should be ready to live in it in the future as we have lived in it in the past. We must not only be first to understand the problems that face Canada, but we must also be first to understand the problems that face the world."

"The eyes of Europe are on the democracies today. We must prove that democracy pays and that it is the only way to live. We must show that democracy is a workable pattern of government."

"In addition, when new people come to this country, we must learn to assimilate them into the Canadian way of life. We must not only be first to understand the problems that face Canada, but we must also be first to understand the problems that face the world."

Speaking at luncheon Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. V. Gilpin, president of the Edmonton Local Council of Women, Mrs. Hardy traced the growth and development of the national council and outlined its purposes.

The council was founded 25 years ago and is active today in 21 countries. "As your president, I have met during the past four and one half years, women of many countries and have had with them the whole problem of women's responsibility in the world today."

Five Basic Factors Comprise ABC Growing Perfect Lawn

As each lawn presents an individual problem, the home owner must recognize the facts as pertaining to his own lawn and govern his management methods accordingly. Five factors of equal importance must be given consideration when making and maintaining the lawn. They are: foundation, top-soil, seed selection, seedling, general maintenance. Each factor bears a relationship to the others and each has simple fundamental principles.

Closely confined layer of top soil limits root growth.

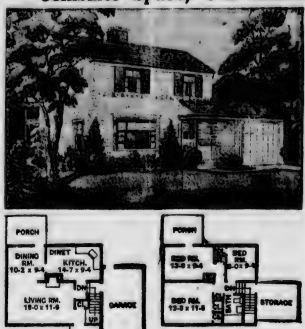

form in texture and in grade. Otherwise there will be unequal distribution of soil moisture and fertility and uneven heaving and settling. The topsoil need not be more than four or five inches in depth, but it must be friable, well supplied with fertilizer and contain at least 10 per cent organic material. Ideal topsoil is a sandy loam. Heavy soils are likely to become compacted and should be improved by adding sand, peat and lime. Sandy soils drain rapidly, soil moisture and plant food are quickly dissipated. Sandy loams are benefited by the addition of equal parts of clay soil and organic material such as peat. Value of an improved soil is influenced as much by the thoroughness of the material as by the materials used. Fertility to topsoil is more important than fertility.

POWERS ARE MOST IMPORTANT
As it is most important for the young grass plants to develop roots, the area at the rate of 30 pounds per 1000 square feet and rake well into the soil before seeding. Best seed is the cheapest. Seed mixtures from reputable concerns usually are satisfactory. For general lawn conditions, sow at the rate of four to five pounds for each 1000 square feet of area. If shade is light, sow at the rate of six pounds and if shade is dense do not expect a lawn.

After sowing, the seed should be lightly covered by brushing with a brush made of twigs or carefully raked in with a lawn rake. Care should be taken not to cover the seed more than 1/4 inch and the presence of 20 per cent of the seeds on the surface after raking or brushing should cause no worry. Roll the lawn with a light-weight roller. A water ballast roller without water is advised, but roll it anyway whatever the weight of the roller. The soil should be dry, otherwise the roller will pick up the seed and soil. Newly seeded

Famous Warrior Back in Britain

TORONTO, April 20.—(CP)—Major William Jones, who became an almost legendary war figure after parachuting into Yugoslavia to establish the first Allied contact with Marshal Tito's Yugoslav partisans, has arrived home after an absence of six years with the Royal Air Force and the British Army. He described Gen. Mikhalovic, Chetnik leader now awaiting trial on charges of war crimes, as a "traitor" to Yugoslavia.

Spacing Vegetable Beds Is Most Important

A plan similar to this may suit your needs, and should provide more than enough vegetables and a surplus of tomatoes for canning. However, the plan can be adjusted to suit your desires and requirements. With the exception of peas, all vegetables did well in my garden, laid out on this plan. Cucumbers, because of the wilt, and potatoes, because they take up too much space for their small yield, were not considered at all. Sweet corn is questionable in a small garden because it takes up lots of room. One needs to plant 100 feet of rows to make corn worthwhile. Before you start your plan, bear in mind that the spacing of the various vegetables is important. A foot or so is sufficient between rows for beans, carrots, lettuce, turnips, spinach, onions and radishes, but two feet must be given to bush beans, peas, and cabbages. Three feet each way for tomato plants and two feet apart in the rows if stalked, which I recommend in the small garden. Three to four feet is necessary properly to separate rows of pole beans, stalked peas, New Zealand spinach, cucumbers, and sweet corn. They estimate the number of rows, and the length of your rows of vegetables.

In arranging the vegetables be sure to plant corn, pole beans and stalked tomatoes at one end of the garden where they will not shade the lower growing vegetables. When planning your garden, however small it may be, a few plants of tomatoes, a row of lettuce and a row or two of carrots should be included.

Provide, too, for successive planting which means sowing of vegetables at a late variety of another vegetable and letuce are ready in time to be followed with green beans, New Zealand spinach, cabbage and long season beans and winter carrots.

Buy only quality seeds and plants. The cost depends upon the newness of the variety. Choose only those suitable to the geographical location and geological make-up of your garden. Plants, too, have their own peculiarities and requirements, so follow directions carefully. Study catalogues, magazines and bulletins and consult your local seed and nursery establishments since they carry and grow only such seeds and plants as are suited to your locality. Purchase in moderation since fewer plants, properly grown and cared for, will give better results.

Plan No Increase In Butter Price

By VICTOR MACKIE
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, April 25.—No additional increase in the price of butter is contemplated, agriculture minister J. G. Gardiner said in the house Wednesday. Rising before the orders of the day were called, he said he wished to correct suggestions that further increases were in the offing.

Such speculation had been started after his speech during the farm implement price increase debate in the house earlier this week, when he said "adjustments that have been made will be followed up by more adjustments."

MR. GARDINER said Wednesday "most of us find it difficult to get enough butter today. The suggestion that has been made arising out of my remarks in the house this week that I had indicated there might be further increases in the price of butter. Such a suggestion naturally encourages producers to hold back, waiting for the extra price increase."

"I had no intention of giving any such idea to the house or to the country, I did point out that there already had been an increase in the price of butter and that there might be increases in other commodities," he said.

Everyone Can Garden in Easily Made Window Box

Everyone can garden the window box way, whether he lives in a suburb or a tall apartment dwelling. And now is the time to be thinking of it, for the boxes can be constructed during the winter weeks so they will be ready for the earliest start in the spring.

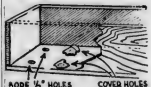

The illustration shows the dimensions of a single window. If made of cypress, it will last well, and cost less than a dollar to build. Where large or multiple windows demand great length, the other dimensions may be larger in proportion, or boxes for each window made.

Remember the window boxes are a decoration for the house. They should harmonize with it, and improve its appearance. The boxes should usually be painted to match the dominant color of the house, or of its trim. The flowers will look best if they make a contrasting note, providing an accent of color.

Perhaps the finest of all window box flowers are petunias, because they blossom constantly throughout the summer, and provide so interesting a variety of color, form and habit. The balcony type petunias, which produce trailing vine-like stems, make graceful festoons which drape from the boxes.

Tall nasturtiums, particularly the new doubles, including Golden Gleam, with its hybrids, give the same effect as the balcony type petunias; and they are excellent window box subjects. Fragrant flowers, such as mignonette, ten-week's stocks, and dwarf snapdragons, are doubly attractive. The last few of flowers that can be grown in window boxes embraces almost the entire seed catalogue.

Owning Twenty-Four Promising Claims

Bell Group and Chuck Claim—consisting of six claims (approximately 310 acres). The group of claims is located directly between the famous Giant Yellowknife Properties and the Ptarmigan Mine. The road and power line to the Ptarmigan Mine both pass over the Southern portion of the property.

Here's What James M. Wilson, M.E., Says: "The area is one worthy of extensive exploration. Faulting along the west boundary is a favorable feature having served as a channel for gold bearing solutions which may have been deposited in the depressed area to the east of the fault. Several quartz veins were discovered by the stakers which should be checked for gold values. Reported gold values in diamond drill holes immediately to the north of McKeehan Island is sufficiently close to trace occurrence into the Bell group. Structural conditions are such that the area can be regarded favorably as the locale for gold bearing ore deposits. I regard this property as one having the earmarks of a prospect of merit. If a serious attempt is made by some company to explore the possibilities there."

WAC Group at Clan Lake—a group of 18 claims located close to Clan Lake, about 35 miles north of Yellowknife, (approximately 900 acres).

Report by James McAvoy—"There are numerous quartz veins on the property and several shear zones. I found gold in two places: (a) In a well mineralized quartz vein that is exposed for about 400 feet and that varies in width of about 4 feet, and (b) In quartz stringers that appear in a shear zone that is exposed for about 400 feet with an average width of about 12 feet. This shear zone is about 800 feet north of the north end of the quartz vein and runs in the same direction, which leads me to believe that the quartz vein runs into the shear zone."

The Company intends to carry out close prospecting operations for each group of claims, with a view to preparing for a diamond drilling program on both groups.

UNINVITED GUEST

The TEENIE WEEENIES

BY W. DONAHUE

AN egg the Teenie Weenies had bought from a neighbor duck was so big the little people decided they could have an Easter party and invite most of their bird and animal friends to a feast. Of course, the party would have to be held outdoors, for Nick, the squirrel; Skippy, the chipmunk, and Tilly Titter, the English sparrow, could not possibly get inside any of the Teenie Weenie houses. The Teenie Weenies, hoping for a fine Easter day, went to work getting ready for the party.

The Teenie Weenie women polished silverware, baked a huge chocolate cake and busied themselves for several days while the men set to work cooking the egg. It was to be boiled whole and that was a tremendous task. First, the men brought up an old tomato can and hoisted it onto several long nails that had been driven into the ground directly beneath the overhanging limb of a big bush. Next, the can had to be half filled with water. It took 103 thimbles of water, and every last drop had to be lugged from the creek.

When the men had poured enough water into the can, the egg was bound tightly with stout twine. A Teenie Weenie block and tackle was then fixed to the bush limb overhead and the other end of the tackle was hooked to the bound egg. With every single Teenie Weenie man tugging at the rope, the little chaps pulled the egg up to the top of the can and gently lowered it into the water. A fire was then kindled under the can and kept burning until the egg was hard-boiled.

When the water had cooled a bit the men pulled out the egg, peeled off the shell and cut off several large slices with a Teenie Weenie crosscut saw. As the pieces were needed, they would be carried to the big table that had been set up near the shoe house.

The table was loaded with a hazelnut bowl of young dandelion lettuce salad, an acorn basket of Teenie Weenie sliced bread, cherry seeds of pickles and jelly and many other good things. Nick, Skippy, Tilly Titter and the respectable mice all arrived on time and the General began carving the first slice of egg. Suddenly the guests vanished when a strange young cat walked up to the table.

After much argument, the cat was persuaded to leave. But none of the guests would come back to the party, and so the Teenie Weenies ate without them. However, the General ordered a generous piece of the egg to be carried to the home of each departed guest, which helped a great deal to smooth over a very embarrassing situation.
